ADVANCEMENT SELECTION BOARD PRECEPT

Encl: (1) FY-11 Navy Active-Duty and Reserve Senior Enlisted Advancement Selection Board Guidance

1. Function and Membership

a. The function of the advancement selection board is to consider Active-Duty and Reserve senior enlisted candidates for advancement to the rank indicated in the convening order. The board shall consider carefully, without prejudice or partiality, the record of every eligible candidate. The records and names of all eligible candidates, determined as on the date the board convenes as well as those subsequently validated through the duration of the selection board, will be furnished to the board.

b. I have personally appointed the members of this advancement selection board. During the board process, the personnel assigned as board members work directly for me, under oath. Board members are entrusted with selecting the future leadership of the Navy. The performance of these duties will have a greater effect on the future of the Navy than any other duty they perform. During the board process, all other duties of an assigned member are secondary to the board process and the utmost care will be given to ensure the process is not compromised or rushed to accommodate outside concerns. Each record reviewed represents years of service by the individual candidate. It is absolutely essential that our evaluation afford each eligible candidate fair and equitable consideration.

2. The board shall proceed in accordance with the convening order, the FY-11 Navy Active-Duty and Reserve Senior Enlisted Advancement Selection Board Guidance (enclosure (1)), and any other guidance contained in this letter.

3. Best and Fully Qualified Selection Standard

a. Fully Qualified. All eligible candidates recommended for selection must be fully qualified; that is, capable of performing the duties of the higher paygrade. Eligibles that do not meet that standard shall not be recommended for selection. Eligibles fully qualified for selection demonstrate an appropriate level of leadership, technical and managerial skills, integrity, commitment to the personal and professional development of subordinates, and resourcefulness in difficult and challenging assignments. Their attributes include rating expertise, demonstrated ability to communicate up and down the chain of command, loyalty to seniors, subordinates, peers and the command, and recognition of our Navy's heritage. Fully qualified eligibles must have shown the ability to successfully lead a diverse workforce, effectively retaining the right quality and quantity of performance-proven personnel. They must clearly demonstrate adherence to Navy and DoD ethical and physical fitness standards, and loyalty to Navy Core Values.

b. Best Qualified. Among the fully qualified eligibles, you must recommend for selection the best qualified within their respective competitive category. The following considerations should guide your recommendations. Members assigned to brief individual records are expected to use these considerations to guide their briefs' review and composition. Each board member is expected to apply this guidance when deliberating and voting. These considerations are:

(1) Deckplate Leadership

(a) Proven, sustained superior performance in difficult and challenging joint and in-service leadership positions is the number one factor for selection. When applying this factor, you must consider that the future Navy and joint force leadership will comprise a mix of service members that have excelled in both traditional and alternate career paths. Demonstrated skill in enhancing teamwork and individual performance should be carefully considered along with subordinate achievements and accomplishments. Eligibles must have clearly demonstrated leadership through the enforcement of all standards, as well as a commitment to teaching and mentoring Sailors. You must consider the attributes developed by eligibles that excelled in alternate career paths.

Subj: FY-11 NAVY ACTIVE-DUTY AND RESERVE SENIOR ENLISTED
ADVANCEMENT SELECTION BOARD PRECEPT

(b) You must give equal consideration to those who have served in non-traditional, combat-related, nation-building roles. Successful performance and leadership in combat conditions demonstrate exceptional potential and should be given special consideration.

(c) You should also consider those eligibles who demonstrate mentoring skills which enhance the professional development of the Navy's future leaders and the cultural diversity of the Navy.

(d) Senior Chief and Master Chief Boards: You should also consider for selection those eligibles who have successfully completed, or are currently serving in the extremely demanding tours of duty as Command Chief and Command Senior Chief, as they demand leadership responsibilities inherent in Command Master Chief billets, but for smaller commands.

(2) Education/Personal and Professional Development

(a) You shall favorably consider professional military education and experience in specialized areas, giving additional consideration to those eligibles that have completed or are in the process of completing degrees associated with their rating. The Professional Military Education (PME) Continuum integrates four components of education: Advanced Education, Navy-Specific Professional Military Education (NPME), Joint Professional Military Education (JPME), and Leadership Development. A key area of consideration is the eligible's knowledge and comprehension of Naval history and heritage and their demonstrated achievements in passing on this knowledge. Eligibles will have shown ability to weave Naval heritage into daily events, demonstrating their understanding of the value of showing those they lead the accomplishments of our past and how it forges the foundation of our future.

(b) Achieving advanced education and specialized skills, as reflected in Navy Enlisted Classification Codes (NECs), is a significant career milestone. I have provided to you for review and use each Enlisted Community Managers Rating Guidelines that represent the traditional career milestones of the active component Sailors. It should be recognized that some ratings do not offer an extensive opportunity for sea duty/mobilization opportunity; however, eligibles who have performed well in demanding sea duty billets and/or overseas sea duty units in their current pay grade should receive special consideration. This special consideration cannot, however, be used to disadvantage otherwise outstanding eligibles, such as female Sailors who have not had the opportunity to serve at sea due to law or policy. Eligibles should not be judged against the norm of a preconceived ideal career path.

(3) Competency/Skill Information. Within the board's charter to recommend for selection those candidates who are best qualified among those fully qualified, the board shall give due consideration to the needs of the Navy for leaders with particular demonstrated competencies/skills. Documented rating expertise during the period of consideration must be appropriately considered when determining an eligible's fitness for selection. Strongly consider an eligible's demonstrated knowledge of rate and the extent to which that eligible used that knowledge to positively impact his/her command.

(a) Key to an individual's military competency and performance is their degree of loyalty to seniors, peers and subordinates. Dedication to Sailors and the command should be viewed through mission success and the success of the Sailors led by each eligible.

(b) You should consider documented performance in teaching and upholding standards, as well as the eligible's professionalism and military demeanor. An eligible's emphasis on procedural compliance among those he/she leads, as well as peers, is a strong indication of their ability to enforce standards on the deckplate and across the command.

(c) Communication skills and the degree to which the eligible contributes to division or departmental success within the framework of a deckplate triad of division officer, chief petty officer and first class petty officer is crucial in determining those best qualified for advancement. The most-qualified eligibles will also effectively communicate principles of leadership, professionalism, and heritage.

(4) Anti-Terrorism and Force Protection. The Navy's increasing focus on anti-terrorism and force protection (AT/FP) requires that the Navy retain eligibles who possess an understanding of these specialized skills. Be particularly attentive to the records of those eligibles who have demonstrated expertise in the areas of anti-terrorism and force protection. Experience may have been attained either afloat or while serving on major staffs or commands ashore. Evaluate the quality of performance in AT/FP assignments as having weight equal to that ordinarily given to other members of their respective communities who have followed more traditional career paths.

(5) Language, Regional Expertise and Culture Experience.

Eligibles who gain competence through assignments requiring foreign language, regional expertise and cultural knowledge provide the Department of Defense a unique combination of technical experience and operational leadership. This will enhance Navy capability to support future operational requirements. When selecting the best qualified eligibles to meet the needs of the Navy, you must consider the quality of performance required of eligibles who have served in assignments requiring language, regional expertise and culture knowledge, many of which are critical.

(6) Naval Special Warfare Experience. Naval Special Warfare Forces play a crucial role in the global struggle against terrorism. Service members assigned to Naval Special Warfare Forces are routinely assigned duties that are not within their rating scope, but are critical to our nation's success in overseas contingency operations. Service members with experience in coalition special operations and interagency forces which may not be a typical career path include, but are not limited to, those assigned to Naval Special Warfare Command, Joint Special Operations units, and U.S. embassies abroad. These actions are vital to the successful joint prosecution of overseas contingency operations. Repeat tours of duty with Naval Special Warfare Forces ensure continuity of expertise and contribute to increased mission capability and therefore should not be considered negative to career diversity.

(7) Special Duty Assignment. Although the eligibles presented to the board compete within their rating, they are frequently detailed to duty outside of their rating specialties. Many such types of duty required selectivity in assignment and special qualifications. Recruiting and retention of Sailors is the top priority of today's Navy. In recognition of the critical role recruiting and retention play in Navy's ability to accomplish its mission, you should give maximum consideration to those eligibles who have successfully completed, or are currently serving in the extremely demanding tours of duty as Recruit Division Commanders or Non-Prior Service Accession Course Instructors and Recruiters. Additionally, tours of duty which the board believes reinforce Navy Core Values in recruits and other first term Sailors, and positions that directly impact the professional growth of Sailors including Detailers, "A" and "C" school instructors, Apprentice Training, NETC Learning Centers and Training Support Centers, Prototype, and Aircrew candidate schools must be given maximum consideration. In determining which eligibles are best and fully qualified, bear in mind that members serving in these types of highly selective assignments compete within a group of individually selected personnel with equally superb records.

(8) Naval Expeditionary Force Experience. Naval Expeditionary Forces play a crucial role in the global struggle against terrorism. Service members assigned to Naval Expeditionary Forces are routinely assigned duties that are not within their rating scope or normal career path, but are critical to our nation's success in overseas contingency operations. These assignments include, but are not limited to, commands within Explosive Ordnance Disposal, SEABEE, Riverine, Navy Expeditionary logistics, Maritime Expeditionary Security, Maritime Civil Affairs, Expeditionary Combat Readiness Center, Navy Expeditionary Intelligence, Naval Beach Groups, Joint Special Operations units and U.S. embassies abroad. These assignments are considered vital to the successful prosecution of the ongoing operations. Repeat or out of rate career path tours of duty with Naval Expeditionary Forces ensure continuity and therefore should not be considered negative to career diversity.

(9) Collateral Duties. Due consideration shall be given to the successful accomplishment of major collateral duties affecting mission effectiveness, retention and morale; e.g., Physical Readiness Program Coordinator, Urinalysis Coordinator, Career Development Board member, etc. In addition to the impact these duties have on the command mission, successful coordination requires a high level of integrity deserving of due consideration.

ADVANCEMENT SELECTION BOARD PRECEPT

(10) Overseas and Arduous Duty. In determining who is best qualified, emphasis shall be placed upon demonstrating evidence of professional and leadership excellence under arduous conditions. It should be recognized that some ratings do not offer an extensive opportunity for sea duty. However, eligibles who have performed well in demanding sea duty billets and/or overseas sea duty units in their current pay grade should receive special consideration. This special consideration cannot, however be used to disadvantage otherwise outstanding female eligibles who have not had the opportunity to serve at sea due to law or policy. Eligible candidates should not be judged against the norm of a preconceived career pattern.

(11) Flag Mess/Enlisted Aide Culinary Specialists and Flag Writer Yeoman. The board will give due consideration to Flag Mess/Enlisted Aide Culinary Specialists and to Flag Writer Yeomen (NEC YN 2514) to ensure selection opportunity is comparable to that given Culinary Specialists in Enlisted Galley assignments and general Yeomen at sea or ashore.

GENERAL GUIDANCE

1. Duties of the Board President. The president of a board is appointed by me and shall perform prescribed administrative duties. The board president has no authority to constrain the board from recommending for selection those fully qualified candidates whom the majority finds best qualified to meet the needs of the Navy.

2. Board Proceedings. The following directions apply to all board proceedings:

a. Each of you (president, members, recorder, assistant recorders, and administrative support personnel) must maintain the integrity and independence of this selection board, and foster careful consideration, without prejudice or partiality, of all candidates.

b. You must pay particularly close attention to the rules governing communications with and among other board members, the information authorized to be furnished to you, and the procedures you should follow if you believe that the integrity of this selection board has been improperly affected.

c. You may not receive, initiate, or participate in communications or discussions involving information that is precluded from consideration by a selection board. You are to base your recommendations on the material in each eligible's military record, any information I have provided to the board, and any information communicated to you by the candidates under regulations I have issued. In your deliberations, you may discuss your own personal knowledge and evaluation of the professional qualifications of candidates only to the extent that such matters are not precluded from consideration by a selection board or inclusion in their military personnel record. You may not discuss or disclose the opinion of any person not a member of the board concerning a candidates being considered unless that opinion is contained in material provided to the board that are in compliance with Navy regulations.

d. When discussing your own personal knowledge concerning the professional qualifications of a candidate, the board is reminded that, if such personal remarks could be considered adverse, the member cannot discuss that personal knowledge or evaluation unless such matters are contained in the candidate's official record or other material placed before the board in compliance with the law and Service regulation. In addition, should a record reveal the removal of an evaluation report, the member may not discuss any personal knowledge regarding the circumstance which resulted in the removal of the report.

e. I, the Master Chief Petty Officer of the Navy, and for reserve boards, the Reserve Force Master Chief Petty Officer are the only persons who may appear in person to address you on other than administrative matters. All communications with this board, other than those that are clearly administrative, must be in writing, given to each of you, and made part of the board's record. Commander, Navy Personnel Command will designate in the convening order those persons authorized to provide routine administrative information to you.

f. To ensure impartiality, you may not visit or communicate with detailers, placement officers, community managers, or any candidate immediately prior to or during the selection board. Communications of any kind or method with outside parties (i.e., other than board members, recorder, assistant recorders, board sponsors, and administrative support personnel) before, during, or after the board relating in any way to the selection board or its proceedings are prohibited. Questions concerning the propriety of any communications prior to the board should be addressed to the board sponsors. Proceedings, deliberations, or recommendations of the selection board may not be disclosed unless expressly authorized or required by me or Commander, Navy Personnel Command.

g. Before the report of the selection board is signed by each board member, recorder, and assistant recorder, the recommendations may be disclosed only to members of the board, recorder, assistant recorders, and those administrative support personnel have designated in writing. After you sign the board report, only the recommendations of the board may be disclosed after I have made the recommendations public. Except as authorized by Commander, Navy Personnel Command or higher authority, the proceedings and deliberations of the board may not be disclosed to any person who is not a board member, recorder, assistant recorder, or administrative support personnel.

h. If at any time you believe that you cannot in good conscience perform your duties as a member of the board without prejudice or partiality, you have a duty to request by Commander, Navy Personnel Command from this duty. Any such request will be honored. If a member, recorder, or assistant recorder believes that the integrity of the board's proceedings has been affected by improper influence of military or civilian authority, misconduct by the board president or a member, or any other reason, or believes someone is exerting or attempting to exert inappropriate influence over the board or its proceedings, he or she has a duty to request relief from the obligation not to disclose board proceedings and, upon receiving it, to report the basis for this belief.

3. Individual Augmentee (IA)/Overseas Contingency Operations (OCO) (also known as GSA) /Afghanistan-Pakistan Hands (APH) Program Assignment

a. The board shall give favorable consideration to those candidates who have displayed superior performance while serving in IA/GSA/APH assignments in direct support of Overseas Contingency Operations and the National Defense Strategy and, in particular, those assignments that are extraordinarily arduous or which involve significantly heightened personal risk. These individuals are developing valuable combat and nation-building skills under stressful conditions that should be retained and used for future application. IA/GSA/APH assignments may not be typical of the candidate's traditional community career path, but are considered vital to the successful joint prosecution of Overseas Contingency Operations and the National Defense Strategy.

b. Due to operational demands, IA/GSA/APH assignments may result in a candidate missing the opportunity to serve in a community-recognized milestone or career gate. Additionally, candidates may not be competitively ranked against other candidates of the same competitive category, and the eligible may be rated by a reporting senior unfamiliar with the candidate's occupational specialty and the Navy fitness report system. Therefore, special attention must be taken in reviewing these candidates' records.

4. Marital Status. Boards are prohibited from considering the marital status of a candidate or the employment, education, or volunteer service of an eligible's spouse.

5. Leadership of Diverse Organizations. When reviewing a candidate's potential for selection, consider that the Navy benefits when Navy leadership possesses a broad spectrum of experience with a depth and breadth of vision. The Navy needs innovative and bold leaders who think creatively, challenge assumptions, and take well-calculated risks that maximize effectiveness. Deckplate results and command success through team performance are significant criteria for consideration. Today's Navy is manned by Sailors representing 24 different ethnic groups and literally hundreds of cultural heritages. In light of this diversity, you should give careful attention to selecting eligibles who have demonstrated the potential to lead a diverse workforce, and create circumstances for the success of all Sailors. The Navy's ability to meet this leadership challenge depends, in part, on having deckplate leaders capable of influencing diverse groups of people to successfully complete their assigned mission.

6. Area Tours. If a candidate's record contains multiple or consecutive tours in a particular geographic location, it should not be viewed negatively, provided the eligible has progressed in billet complexity, professional development, and leadership responsibility.

7. Adverse Information

a. Just as you must consider positive performance, you must consider incidents of misconduct and substandard performance documented in a candidate's official service record when determining those eligibles who are best qualified for selection. Adverse information may reflect negatively on a candidate's suitability for selection and future service in positions of greater responsibility and trust. For those candidates who are recommended for selection and who have received disciplinary action, or whose privileged information record contains matters relating to conduct or performance of duty, that occurred within the past five years, every board member shall review the information contained therein personally prior to the final board decision.

b. While the Navy is, and will remain, a Service of the highest standards and strict accountability, we do not embrace blind adherence to a zero-defect mentality. All of us have made mistakes in the past; the test is of the character and resilience of the individual and his or her ability to learn and grow from that experience. Where a candidate has performed exceptionally well subsequent to a reportable incident, I consider that test to be substantially met. In selecting those you consider best and fully qualified, do not discount any eligible that except for a single incident, would otherwise be recommended for selection.

APPENDIX - B

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY GUIDANCE

1. The Department of the Navy is dedicated to equality of treatment and opportunity for all personnel without regard to race, religion, color, gender, or national origin. The Navy strives to maintain a professional working environment in which an individual's race, religion, color, gender, or national origin will not limit his or her professional opportunities. Accordingly, within this board's charter to determine the candidates who are "best and fully qualified," you must ensure that candidates are not disadvantaged because of their race, religion, color, gender, or national origin.
2. Your evaluation of all candidates must afford them fair and equitable consideration. You should be particularly vigilant in your evaluation of records to take care that no eligible's selection opportunity is disadvantaged by service utilization policies or practices. You should evaluate each candidate's potential to assume the responsibilities of the next higher rank, the overriding factor being performance of assigned duties.
3. The Navy has assigned some candidates outside of traditional career development patterns, e.g., institutional instructors, recruiting, and equal opportunity billets. In addition, other utilization policies or practices, such as those based on statutory restrictions on the assignment of women, may have had an effect on career opportunities. These assignments, though beneficial to the Navy, may have foreclosed to the candidate so assigned opportunities available to other eligibles. Such assignment practices should not prejudice the selection of these candidates for selection. Successful performance of assigned duties is the key in measuring a candidate's potential for selection. Accordingly, in determining the qualification for selection of any candidate who has been affected by such utilization policies or practices, duty performed well in such assignments should be given weight equal to duty performed well by an eligible not affected by such policies or practices.
4. This guidance should not be interpreted as requiring or permitting preferential treatment of any candidate or group of eligibles on the grounds of race, religion, color, gender, or national origin.

APPENDIX - C

BOARD REPORTS

1. The record of the board's proceedings shall be compiled by the recorder, assistant recorders, and administrative support personnel. The written report of the board shall be signed by the board president, members, recorder, and assistant recorders. It shall contain the names of the candidates recommended for selection with appropriate selection statistics, as well as the following items:

a. Convening Order.

b. All instructions, information, and guidance that were provided to the board, except information concerning particular candidates, which must be retained by Commander, Naval Personnel Command.

c. Certification that:

(2) You were not subject to or aware of any censure, reprimand, or admonishment about the recommendations of the board or the exercise of any lawful function within the authorized discretion of the board;

(3) You were not subject to or aware of any attempt to coerce or influence improperly any action in the formulation of the board's recommendations;

(4) You were not party to or aware of any attempt at unauthorized communications;

(5) To the best of your knowledge, the board carefully considered the record of each candidate whose name was furnished to the board;

(6) The candidates recommended for selection are, in the opinion of the majority of the members of the board, fully qualified and best qualified for selection to meet the needs of the Navy among those eligibles whose names were furnished to the board;

(7) You are aware that the names of the selectees will be released to the public after the board report is approved, and you know that you may not disclose the recommended selectees until the names are released to the public; and

(8) You understand that, except as authorized by Naval Regulations you may never disclose the proceedings and deliberations of the board to any person who is not a board member, recorder, or assistant recorder.

d. A list of all candidates eligible for consideration.

e. This precept.

2. The report shall be forwarded for approval to Chief of Naval Personnel.

APPENDIX - D
